

Zenica Chatman

KEYNOTE SPEAKER • PODCASTER
PROFESSIONAL COACH

"Zenica has a true passion for connection and helping others. She co-hosted two of our women's empowerment groups and our attendees were felt, seen and heard, and always left wanting more of her wisdom and insight."

—Julie Hurley
The Beauty Boost Charlotte

Zenica Chatman is a certified executive coach, speaker and trainer dedicated to helping women rediscover their confidence and inner strength in the aftermath of workplace abuse. Her mission is to equip women, especially women of color, with the tools and strategies to reclaim their power, advocate for themselves, and thrive in their careers.

After experiencing workplace harassment that left her confused and emotionally exhausted, Zenica committed herself to understanding workplace dynamics, confidence building, and leadership development. Today she partners with corporations and various organizations to lead transformative discussions on workplace bullying, leadership and personal empowerment.

"Working with Zenica had an immediate positive effect on my career. Her down to earth approach and confidence building methodology will continue to pay dividends to me in my career!"
